Soccer team strives for top three finish in tough league

This year's Grayling High School boys' soccer team — a group that started its official practices on Wednesday, Aug. 12, and played in its season opener last week — has strong overall numbers with approximately 30 players — enough to include a series of junior varsity games in addition to the varsity schedule.

"I'm looking forward to the season," Coach Craig Cobb said. "We have a lot of young players, but we have skill players in all positions." 10A

Golf team has all new lineup

The 2009 Grayling High School girls' golf squad has a young, inexperienced group — none of the program's scorers from last year's regional tournament are on this year's team.

Keri Brock, who's in her second season coaching the squad, said the team's primary focus right now is "just a matter of using all your clubs and getting comfortable with each one, getting the distance figured out with each." 11A

SAILOR HONORED

Edward J. Jungman was one of 29 sailors inducted into the Great Lakes Lore Maritime Museum, which is based in Rogers City, during a ceremony held on Aug. 15. Jungman was among 10 sailors who lost their lives when the S.S. Cedarville was struck by another ship in the Straits of Mackinac on May 7, 1965. He was 50. Above, Jungman's children, Lana Cronk of Roscommon, Shelley Pinkelman of Frederic and Michael Jungman of Novi, hold a memorial plaque for their father, which will be on display at the museum.

A Frederic native who made his living and supported family as a sailor was recently inducted into the Great Lakes Lore Maritime Museum.

Edward J. Jungman was one of 29 sailors inducted into the Great Lakes Lore Maritime Museum, which is based in Rogers City, during a ceremony held on Aug. 15. Jungman was among 10 sailors who lost their lives when the S.S. Cedarville was struck by another ship in the Straits of Mackinac on May 7, 1965. He was 50.

Jungman was born in Frederic on June 29, 1914. He was the son of emigrant parents, who came to the United States from Germany in 1913.

In his earlier years, Jungman was a member of the Civilian Conservation Corps, which planted hundreds of trees, developed roads and state parks across Michigan.

From 1942 to 1948, Jungman served as a Private 1st Class in the United States Army, and he was also employed by the railroads.

In 1958, at the age of 44, Jungman boarded his first Great Lakes freighter — The Carl D. Bradley, working in the deck department.

From 1958 through 1965, he sailed on a number of Bradley Transportation ships. He also worked on the freighter Rogers City before taking a deckwatch position on the S.S. Cedarville.

Jungman was serving as deckwatch on the S.S. Cedarville when tragedy struck. On May 7, 1965, the S.S. Cedarville collided with a Norwegian freighter The Topdalsfjord in the Straits of Mackinac.

David M. Erickson, director of the Great Lakes Lore Maritime Museum and a S.S. Cedarville survivor, said visibility was reduced that day as ships were making their way through the Straits of Mackinac.

Factory free-for-all causes damage

Estimated damage at Weyerhaeuser plant is $90,000

by Dan Sanderson

Staff Writer

A 26-year-old Lainsburg man was charged with felony malicious destruction of property charges from an incident that occurred at two Beaver Creek Township businesses earlier this month.

Shaun Simmons was charged with malicious destruction of personal property over $20,000 and malicious destruction of a building over $20,000 from an incident, which occurred at the Lake City Redi-Mix Plant and Weyerhaeuser OSB plant located off of Four Mile Road in Beaver Creek Township on Sunday, Aug. 9.

Simmons entered the Lake City Redi-Mix Plant around 3:30 a.m. with his vehicle. He was driving his car in circles, tearing up the gravel driveway. He then got his car stuck in a mound of gravel piled in the driveway, and tried to get the car unstuck by jumping on the hood.

Simmons then walked over to the Weyerhaeuser factory and entered the gated facility. He found a forklift, which he used to pick up a floor sweeper. He then re-entered the main warehouse, where he flipped the forklift and sweeper onto a railroad loading dock. He was thrown to the ground, but was uninjured since a wall he smashed into held up the forklift.

Simmons then found a second forklift and drove it around running into a brick wall, heating units, doors and buildings. He then got off the forklift and into a crane. While trying to go between two buildings, Simmons hit one of the buildings. He then drove the crane into the yard at the Weyerhaeuser plant, where it stalled and Weyerhaeuser employees detained him.

Troopers Harold Terry and Rick Dettling, from the Houghton Lake Post of the Michigan State Police, were on their way to the Weyerhaeuser plant when they learned that employees had Simmons detained.

Terry said they did not know what to expect while responding to the call, thinking it may have been a disgruntled employee.

Road Commission, City of Grayling given two months to remedy road millage squabble

by Dan Sanderson
Staff Writer

The Crawford County Board of Commissioners gave City of Grayling and Crawford County officials two months to work out a road millage funding snafu before pitching a proposal to patch potholes and repair county roads.

The Crawford County Board of Commissioners had a resolution that would have prohibited the levy of a Crawford County millage for the repair and maintenance or county roads on its regular monthly meeting agenda last week.

In November 2008, Crawford County voters supported a five-year, one-mill proposal to fund the reconstruction and maintenance of county roads under the jurisdiction of the Crawford County Road Commission by a 3,531 yes vote to a 3,261 no vote. The millage, which will first be collected on the 2009 winter tax bills, will generate about $543,000 per year for road repairs.

As Grayling City officials were planning for their 2010 fiscal budget, which began July 1, local officials learned that the city leaders hope to tap the county millage to offset the cost of repair and maintenance major streets within the city limits from an article published in the May 7 edition of the Crawford County Avalanche. The funds city officials are seeking to obtain would be from taxes collected from city property owners for the county road millage.

City officials are citing Public Act 238 of 1909, better known as the Public Highways and Private Roads Act, which governs the allocation and use of tax revenues after a tax levy is submitted to the electorate.

The state law says that all tax funds allowed to be captured by a millage or bond issue should go to the county treasurer. Exceptions are made, however, for the amount of county primary roads and major streets within cities and villages. In addition, the statute says that revenues shall be distributed to cities and villages for the proportion of state equalized values each jurisdiction has compared to the state equalized values of unincorporated areas in the county. The City of Grayling was incorporated from being a village to city in 1935. Finally, city officials argue that taxes collected from city property owners should not go to subsidize roads in the townships.

Last week, the Crawford County Board of Commissioners was set to adopt a resolution to prohibit the collection the road millage because county and road commission officials were not informed of the city's intention to collect taxes paid by city residents in a timely manner. Therefore, the ballot language put before voters has now been deemed to be misleading, inaccurate and in violation of the state's General Property Tax Act.

Instead of adopting the resolution, the board gave city and road commission officials two months to see if they come with an agreement to "legally collect" the tax within the confines of how the ballot language was worded.

"We have to give it a try, but any remedy has to be reached with the language that was on the ballot," said Don Babcock, managing director for the Crawford County Road Commission.

Rich Jaskowski, a Grayling attorney representing the road commission, said although a legal agreement was discussed between local officials before the vote, some deal could be reached before the tax bills have to be printed and mailed.

"Obviously, a lot of work by the road commission and Mr. Babcock went into getting this road millage passed, and they would hate to lose those funds, and frankly the voters would hate to lose those funds as well," Jaskowski said.

Ken Riehle, chairman of the road commission, said the county's crumbling roads can't wait for another election cycle and the time it takes to be able to collect the funds to fix the roads:

"The way the roads are today, if we had to wait for another election and to get the funds, the roads are just getting worse and worse and our budgets are being cut," Riehle said.

About $3 million would be lost to repair and maintain the county roads if the tax is not collected.

"This gives them time to come up with an agreement that is 100 percent in accordance with the ballot language, and if the city does not agree to give up their cut of the pie, it would be an atrocity if we lose those funds," County Commissioner Scott Hanson said.

Grayling City Manager David Thayer said he was scheduled to meet with the road commission on Tuesday, Sept. 1. Riehle said road commission officials planned to attend the Grayling City Council's meeting on Monday, Aug. 31.

"I will be just as interested in hear what they have to say as the next guy," Thayer said.

Although Public Act 238 was initially adopted in 1909, Thayer noted that the act was last amended in 1974.

Thayer said that he became award of the Public Act 238 at a Northern Michigan City Managers Association meeting. When the Charlevoix County Road Commission was going for a millage and Boyne City officials were seeking to tap some of the funds.

"It's not a obscure law - this is the main law," he said.

Thayer said the city is only seeking to obtain about $63,000 annually from the county road millage fund.

Thayer concurred that any viable solution would have to be done within legal statutes established by the state.

"The bottom line is we're not going to break another law to make this law work," Thayer said.

Terry said Simmons told him he had received an e-mail informing him of an abandoned gravel pit he could go to blow off some steam. Simmons told police he had left work at 6 p.m. and had just one drink, but a breathalyzer test registered at .18, three times the legal limit of .08 for operating under the influence of liquor. Lainsburg is located northeast of Lansing.

Terry described Simmons as being highly intoxicated and "out of it."

"He didn't even know where he was at," Terry said. "He thought he was just north of Lansing."

Estimated damage at the Weyerhaeuser plant is $90,000, while between $1,500 to $2,000 was done at the Lake City Redi-Mix facility.

Simmons' case has been bound over to the Crawford County Circuit Court for trial. He faces up to 10 years in prison and/or a $15,000 fine or three times the amount of the damage he caused if convicted. Crawford County prosecutors are also seeking to have Simmons charged as a second-offense habitual offender.

Simmons remains in the Crawford County Jail in lieu of posting bond, which was reduced when his case was bound over to Circuit Court.

Board approves Read to Kids Zone at courthouse

by Dan Sanderson
Staff Writer

The Crawford County Board of Commissioners agreed to establish a "Read to Kids Zone" in the courthouse to divert children's attention from sensitive court cases.

Crawford County Family and District Court Judge Monte Burmeister recently learned that Crawford County was awarded books through an organization called Lisa Libraries for the Read to Kids Zone.

Lisa Libraries donates new children's books and helps establish small libraries for organizations that work with kids in poor and under-served areas. Founded in 1990, the Lisa Libraries was started by author Ann M. Martin and friends to honor and memorialize children's book editor Lisa Novak. Some of the libraries established have been at day-care centers, prison visiting areas for children of incarcerated parents and after-school programs. The Lisa Libraries supplements under-filled shelves as well as provides books to many children who may never have owned a book before.

Burmeister said he was trying to prevent children from looking into court room as a family member or another person is testifying in abuse and neglect cases. Often times, Burmeister said he can see children looking through the window on the door to the court room from the bench. He is trying to prevent the children and people testifying from being uncomfortable as the court proceedings are underway.

Children who are victims in abuse and neglect cases are required to meet the guardian ad litem, a legal guardian or person who is appointed to represent the interest of the child in a court case. While those meetings don't have to take place at the courthouse, they often do as a practical matter as the court proceedings weave their way through the system. During court hearings, the children are supervised by family members, foster parents and Department of Human Services employees and sometimes it is not an easy task to keep them busy, Burmeister said. The victim's room for the Crawford County Prosecutor's Office may also have a person there waiting to be called for a court hearing, preventing that area from being used to supervise the children.

The Read to Kids Zone will include a book shelf with the new books coming from Lisa Libraries. A large chair and a few small chairs will also be set up in the area, along with signage identifying the Read to Kids Zone.

"It gets children diverted from watching court proceeding that are of a sensitive nature," Burmeister said.

Burmeister said Read to Kids Zone will also promote literacy in the community. The books will be on hand to be read at the courthouse, and children will be allowed to take a book home if they promise to read it.

Burmeister said the Grand Traverse County Family Court has a Read to Kids Zone which has been successful.

Dave Stephenson, chairman of the Crawford County Board of Commissioners, questioned if the Read to Kids Zone should be established in a more isolated area in the courthouse.

"They've already been through enough suffering and you're trying to eliminate that - I understand," Stephenson

Burmeister said he hopes to have enough books to establish the Read to Kids Zone in the lobby of the courthouse and have a collection of books in the victim's room.

Acknowledging that the lobby was not the optimum location, Burmeister said the Read to Kids Zone would give him something to promote to family members, foster parents, DHS employees and court staff while court hearings take place.

In addition, Burmeister said it also advantageous to have the children in a public setting, but out of the way of people who may make comments of criticisms about court proceedings, creating more hurt feelings and hardships for the children and parties involved in the case.

"When there are people that are prone to do that kind of activity, when other people are around, there is more of a protection form that happening," Burmeister said.

The judge said he hoped to have the Read to Kids Zone established by October. He added that has another grant request through a local organization in hopes of purchasing "Dr. Seuss" books, "Junie B. Jones" books as well as books that help children going through custody battles and other traumatic situations.

ations.

County Commissioner Kathy Rogers noted that she is treasurer for the Friends of the Crawford County Library System and one of the organization's goals is to promote literacy in the community. Rogers said she would check into proving the Read the Kids Zone with grant funding, furnishings and books.

"That's music to my ears," Burmeister replied.

County Commissioner Shelley Pinkelman noted that Kathy Mobarak, a Beaver Creek Township resident, also has several sources to get free books.

Burmeister said he plans to contact the Crawford County Library system to help provide momentum to keep to the Read to Kids Zone going in the future. The judge, however, said he felt fortunate to get the Lisa Libraries grant since most grant go to libraries and school systems.

"Obviously, it's not generally a very positive direction to begin with but if we can get something that will move them in another direction that will be good," Burmeister said. "Certainly, I would love all the assistance I could get."

Almanack

Robots taking over dairy chores

WHAT WILL they think of next?

A recent newspaper story (Lansing State Journal, August 22) describes a new technique at Michigan State University's W.K. Kellogg Biological Station in Hickory Corners where robots milk the farm's 100 productive cows.

When a cow feels like it should be relieved of its load of milk, it steps into a special milking station where a robotic arm reaches under the cow's belly, cleans the cow's udder and then proceeds to do its business without human assistance. The milk travels by tube to a container near the machine. And that's it.

The MSU farm has two robot machines in use since early July, which cost about $250,000 each, and daily milk production has increased from an average of 65 pounds to 70 pounds per cow.

Electronic collars on the cows transmit frequency and production data to the robots. The collars cost $180 each.

Before the robots came into play in July, the cows were milked three times a day. Now cows choose their own schedule, which is two to five times per day.

Robots free up the work schedule of farmers, and, the news story claims: "The system also liberates cows."

The MSU cows also have special water beds, covered with straw for their relaxation time, the news story reports. It quotes an MSU science professor that cows should spend 12 hours a day lying down.

That's about the average for regular college students, too.

BOVINE ROBOTS are a far cry from my personal very limited experience in milk production.

During the Big Depression (not to be confused with today's Big Recession), our family usually kept one cow which provided milk for our family. No pasteurization then, either; straight from the cow to the breakfast table.

Our family lived on the edge of town, and one-cow families were not a rarity in those days; you did what you had to do.

Our cows always had a name; when I was old enough, I learned how to milk Daisy. I would draw up a stool about a foot tall, secure the milk pail between my knees, and go at it, two teats at a time, in no particular pattern, with a squeeze-and-pull technique.

I was never able to get as much milk from Daisy as my older brother, who was a much better milker and much more of a farmer than I ever wanted to be.

For me, milking a cow wasn't easy and I didn't like it all that much. I wasn't very good at it, either. I was taught to milk from the right side of the cow; I don't remember why. The cow continually swished its tail, which added to my discomfort, and I worried the cow would somehow kick me or the bucket from between my knees and spill what milk I had managed to collect. I'm thankful I didn't have to do it very often.

My mother could milk a cow, too, but I don't recall any of my sisters ever being expected to milk. They had other chores.

DOWN THE ROAD, neighbors had a big farm, with probably 100 cows, mostly black and white Holsteins. My older brother helped out on that farm, which is probably why he was a good milker.

Cows were milked twice a day, in the morning and again in the evening. Electric milking machines were used, and the machines had to be moved by hand from cow to cow. I don't remember how the milk was handled and marketed.

This operation could have used a robot or two, but at that time labor was cheaper and robots would have been way too expensive.

ROBOTS HAVE been milking cows in America since 2001, but in Europe since 1992 and in Canada since 1998.

MSU statistics show that in 2006, there were 75,000 dairy producers in the United States, and fewer than 50 use robotic milking. The MSU application is only the second in Michigan.

As is everything else in our world, agriculture and the dairy business are undergoing massive changes, and I find the whole story of robots milking cows fascinating, perhaps because of my recollection of earlier times spent with cows and farms.

It's also fascinating to me that I was not aware of the automated milk collection system before, although it has been around for at least 17 years.

Maybe I don't read the right periodicals, but if not for the story as it appeared in a newspaper, I still would be unaware.

I count this as an example of how important newspapers remain to provide information to the public which can protect and advance the general welfare of the people.

In so many different cases, if it does not appear in a newspaper, it remains unknown, or unverified.

Who would go to their computer and Google "Cows and Robots"?

Law enforcement made car tour stop one to remember

To the editor:

Nancy and I were very happy to take part in the Old US 27 Car Tour this past week. Due to time constraints, we didn't do the whole tour, but much of it. Almost every town greeted the tour with a welcome package and an invitation to stop back and visit their community soon.

The efforts of Dave Shepard and the local law enforcement departments made the stop over in Grayling one to remember.

Hopefully an even larger group on this tour will gather about this time next year.

Paddlers, please follow river etiquette rules

To the editor:

I would like all people practicing in racing canoes to check the AuSable Canoe Marathon Web site (ausablecanoeamarathon.org/09 River Etiquette) for river etiquette rules. In particular: Slow down, reduce your wake 100 feet above and below anglers, ask which side to pass on, be aware that fisherman can't hear or move well in moving water.

I would like to add to this to let anglers know you are coming, that way we will stop casting and avoid the possibility of hooking you.

For those who have operated by these rules, ask the others to please start doing so.

David Noland, who spent his summers at Lake Margrethe as a young boy, shares this photo of him with a shark that was found on the shores of Lake Margrethe with our readers.

In the Crawford County Avalanche, July 20, 1961 an article covering the incident read:

Find "Planted" Shark At Lake Margrethe - Lake Margrethe residents were the victims of a practical joker Saturday morning where a six-foot thresher shark was discovered on the beach, half in and half out of the water. Conservation officials were called to the scene by Don Weaver. Officer Russell Wright finally loaded the shark up and brought it into the Conservation Equipment Station. A great many of the people in Grayling went to see the big fish, which was estimated to weigh about 125 lbs., and examination of it by Hatchery men produced the conclusion that the shark had either been freshly killed or had been quick-frozen immediately upon its capture within recent months. The shark was buried later on the same day. There is no information as yet as to who is responsible for bringing it to Lake Margrethe.

Recent editions of the Avalanche have generated the following responses:

5 blogs on this article: "The Crawford County Board of Commissioners chose not to tangle with a proposed Mixed Martial Arts cage fight at the Crawford County Sports Complex."

6 blogs on this article: "Citing a 100-year-old state law, a battle is brewing between City of Grayling and Crawford County Road Commission officials over the collection of a county-wide road millage approved by voters last year."

14 blogs on this letter to the editor: "I wonder if you even did any research about MMA before you decided to turn it down. You didn't even vote on it? Then how did you turn it down? I think you need to research, get opinions and then actually vote."

8 blogs on this article: "Crawford County voters said they would not foot the bill for a new Grayling Senior Center and didn't want funds from the county coffers to pay to renovate the former Grayling Fish Hatchery for senior center facilities at the polls on Tuesday."

6 blogs on this article: "Vandals who destroyed flower gardens on a main thoroughfare through the community have prompted the Grayling City Police to solicit the public's help."

7 blogs on this article: "Grayling City officials are studying plans that would allow ORV operators to get in and out of town from Crawford County's network of roads where ORVs are allowed to travel."

7 blogs on this letter to the editor: "Just because the school turned it down don't mean they were right by doing so. I believe cage fighting is one of the biggest sports on the horizon and only Grayling gives it a two thumbs down. They could have numerous cage fights here but they prefer to send it elsewhere. Look at the crowds they draw. You don't have to go to the fights, but give us a choice."

The Bible Speaks

Only Christ is Righteous

Although the Jews had zeal and self-righteousness, they stumbled at Christ as truth personified, and their only source of God's righteousness. "4For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth." (Rom. 10:4). As God, the third person of the Trinity, He is the source, support and end of all things. "8I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty." (Rev. 1:8). He is author and finisher of our faith in Heb. 12:2.

Christ is the end of the law in that He came to fulfill the law. "Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill." (Matt. 5:17). Jesus said in Luke 16:17: "17And it is easier for heaven and earth to pass, than one tittle of the law to fail." His incarnation and virgin birth fulfilled the law in Galatians 4:4: "4But when the fullness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, made of a woman, made under the law." In Matthew 3:15 He fulfilled the righteousness of the law by His baptism: "15And Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer it to be so now: for thus it becometh us to fulfil all righteousness. Then he suffered him." As the promised seed he fulfilled the purpose of the law in Galatians 3:19: "19Wherefore then serveth the law? It was added because of transgressions, till the seed should come to whom the promise was made; and it was ordained by angels in the hand of a mediator." As Galatians 3:24 teaches: "24Wherefore the law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith."

"4For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness..." He is made unto us righteousness in 1 Corinthians 1:30: "30But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption." "5Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost." (Tit. 3:5). This is why Paul was not ashamed of the gospel in Romans 1:16,17: "16For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek. 17For therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith: as it is written, The just shall live by faith."

"4For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth." "To every one that believeth" reminds us of our personal responsibility to trust Christ as our Savior. "19To wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them; and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation. 20Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God. 21For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him." (2 Cor. 5:19-21). "39And by him all that believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses." (Acts 13:39). "22But the scripture hath concluded all under sin, that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe." (Gal. 3:22). Do you trust only in Christ? Pastor "B"

Library News

Library patrons are in for a real treat in September and October with events and programs highlighting "The Big Read" grant we received from the (NEA) National Endowment for the Arts, the Institute of Museum and Library Services, Arts Midwest and many more. The Crawford County Library has been chosen to host "Tom Sawyer ... the AuSable River is calling you." Mark Twain's classic will be brought to life with visits from its leading characters and from the bard himself. Free books, concerts, puppet shows, "Good Molly Aunt Polly's Story Hour,"

"Today's Tom Sawyer" teen events, reading discussions, "Someone's in the kitchen with Polly" and much more.

"Good Golly Aunt Polly's Story Hour" will meet at the Devereaux Memorial Library on Wednesday, September 2, at 11:45 a.m. This fun, interactive program for children (0-5) and their parents is filled with stories, a special Mark Twain jumping frog craft and a light snack.

Join the daytime knitting club "Sit n' Knit" at the Devereaux Memorial Library on Thursday, Sept. 3, at 10 a.m.

Free Diabetic Foot Screening

Many people with diabetes are unaware of the detrimental effects diabetes can, and eventually will, have on their feet if not treated. Diabetic foot screenings give patients the opportunity to learn about proper footwear, orthotics, overall foot care and ulcer prevention.

This free foot screening will be provided by podiatrists, Dr. Brian Brausa and Dr. Tracy Bacik, and is sponsored by Mercy Hospital Grayling and the American Diabetes Association National Foot Screening Day.

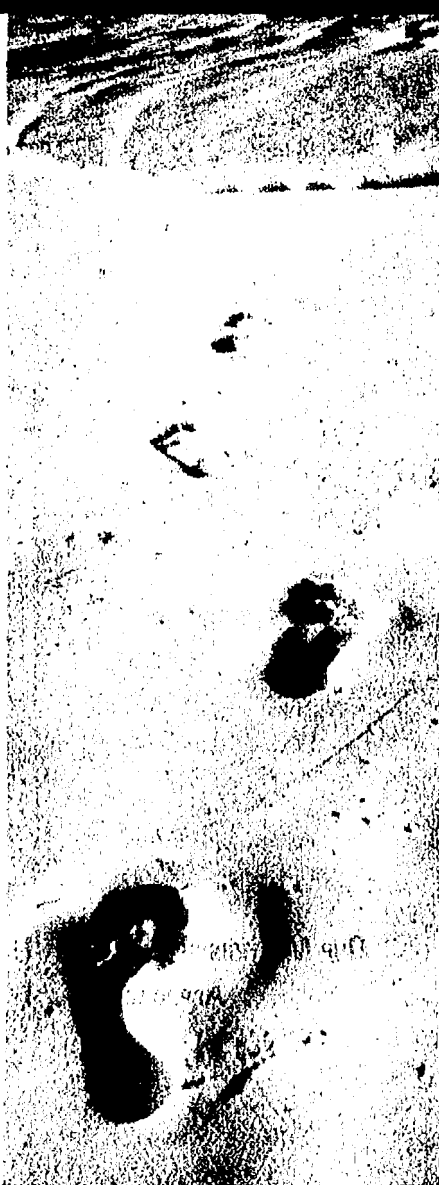

Wednesday, September 9
8 am - 4 pm

Please call the diabetes education department at (989) 348-0455 to schedule your appointment.

Kalkaska Eagles support military family group

The Kalkaska Eagles Club #4496, and Ladies Auxiliary donated $1,503 to the Camp Grayling Joint Maneuver Training Center (JMTC), Family Readiness Group Fund on July 27.

These funds were raised through various monthly fund raisers. The ladies auxiliary has monthly 50/50 raffles and assists with the weekly bingo kitchen.

The Kalkaska Eagles Club #4496 motto is "People helping People".

Nola Griffin, President of the JMTC Family Readiness Group, says "this is a great help to our soldiers and their families."

The Family Readiness Group is an official sponsored organization of family members, volunteers and soldiers belonging to the JMTC. They help families of the troops who are deployed, by paying bills when they experience medical, personal and/or financial hardships.

Camp Graylings JMTC, First Sergeant Ken Holmes who helps oversee the Family Readiness Group's activities states, "I cannot over state how critical this type of support is to our Family Readiness Group. Because of our mission and how busy our Soldiers get they could never afford the kind of time raising this kind of money would entail. This donation will help us meet the needs of soldiers families well through the next year."

Business News

Springs Window Fashions of Grayling presented five-year service awards to four Grayling associates, Donna Hollis, Donna Schuetter, Cindy Fritch, and Mark Kwiatkowski.

Kwiatkowski, Schuetter, Fritch and Hollis started working at the Grayling wood window treatment manufacturer in Aug. 2004.

Schuetter and Hollis are members of the plant's sanding team that prepares and packs wood window blind and shutter components for shipment. Fritch works on the shipping/receiving team, and Kwiatkowski works on the versatile second shift team.

"These associates have been with us through a time of much change and process improvement. Their efforts have helped put us in a market leadership position. We look forward to their continued success," said Plant Manager Dan Heinz.

Springs Window Fashions, LLC, manufactures and assembles window treatments and interior shutters under various brand names, including; Bali, Graber, and Nanik, in six locations in the U.S. and Mexico. The Grayling plant produces unfinished wood window blind and interior shutter components with 90 associates.

CRCPC has new website

The Crawford/ Roscommon Child Protection Council (CRCPC) has their new website up and running at www.crcchildprotection.info. The site was recently published to the web in hopes of providing useful resource information and creating public awareness regarding the prevention of child abuse and neglect in Crawford and Roscommon counties.

The Michigan Children's Trust Fund (CTF) provides funding and support to local groups, known as Child Protection Councils, to address the prevention of child abuse and neglect at a local level using resources directly available in each community.

The Michigan (CTF) was established to help break the vicious cycle of child abuse and neglect, to protect the lives of children so they become more successful adults and parents, without requiring state tax dollars to do its work.

CTF provides funding to 72 local councils throughout the state covering a total of 82 of 83 counties in Michigan. In order to receive funding, local councils must provide support to and promotion of local programs that address the prevention of child abuse and neglect. The CRCPC also receives local funding through the Roscommon County Community Foundation; the Roscommon and Crawford County United Way organizations; and the North Central Michigan Community Foundation, as well as donations from individuals. As the Council is a nonprofit, 501(c)3 organization, donations are tax-deductible.

The local council is governed by a volunteer board of directors comprised of parents and professional staff from organizations working with youth and families.

The mission of the CRCPC is "Working to develop and support child abuse/neglect prevention education, activities & programs in Crawford and Roscommon Counties."

The council meets monthly and is always interested in new members. If you would like more information visit the website or contact Cindy DeLadurantaye at (989) 344-9335.

Soccer team strives for top three finish in tough league

Vikings will have a series of JV games this year

by Caleb Casey
Senior Staff Writer

This year's Grayling High School boys soccer team – a group that started its official practices on Wednesday, Aug. 12, and played in its season opener last week – has strong overall numbers with approximately 30 players – enough to include a series of junior varsity games in addition to the varsity schedule.

"I'm looking forward to the season," Coach Craig Cobb said. "We have a lot of young players, but we have skill players in all positions."

Prior to official practices, the squad got in shape by running the ski slopes at Hanson Hills for seven days. Coach Cobb said the optional workouts had great turnout with more than 20 participants. The squad conducted four-hour sessions for the first official week of practice. Early practices included dribbling drills, 3.5-mile runs, and 30-minute sprint-jogs.

"They've been working their tail off," Coach Cobb said. "They're working hard."

Coach Cobb said the team has three goals this year: finish top three in the conference, have a winning record overall, and post at least a 3.0 team grade point average.

"We play in one of the toughest conferences (for soccer) in northern Michigan, so these are difficult things," Coach Cobb said.

Two of the squad's key seniors are injured and five members of the team are foreign exchange students, and the overall roster has a lot of underclassmen, leaving several question marks going into the season.

"We've had a couple of setbacks. We have two seniors that have injuries, but I have a lot of young players who have really improved," Coach Cobb said.

The Vikings are installing a new formation – a setup that increases midfielders – this year.

"We've been working on a new formation – the 3-5-2. That's what colleges run for the most part. It should allow for better control of the ball in the middle of the field," Coach Cobb said.

The team's young players will have the opportunity to get playing time during a series of seven JV games scheduled for this year. The JV coach will be Jerry Wells.

The JV contests will give "more players more time in the field," Coach Cobb said. "That's going to be great to have when it comes to varsity soccer."

After the JV team's final game in September, several junior varsity players will be moved up to the varsity squad for the stretch run, Coach Cobb said.

"We continue to move in the right direction," Cobb said. "I think we should be able to go toe to toe with the toughest teams in our conference."

"Overall, the biggest thing is we have a more controlled game. We control the ball better, pass the ball better, than any year I've coached," Cobb said.

The Vikings will host Boyne City in a league game on Monday, Aug. 31, at 5 p.m.

GHS cancels fall tennis season

Boys team disbanded due to low player numbers

Grayling High School has cancelled its 2009 boys tennis season – a team that was slated to play this fall – due to low player numbers.

In Michigan high school sports, boys tennis is now played during the fall season. In 2007, several high school sports changed seasons due to a court ruling against the Michigan High School Athletic Association.

Girls tennis moved from fall to spring and boys tennis moved from spring to fall.

Last year, the Crawford AuSable School District eliminated girls tennis from its list of sports, but the athletic department at Grayling High School encouraged its female tennis athletes to play on a coed team with the boys in the fall.

During recent practices, this year's squad had nine girls and two boys – one short of a starting lineup. Meets require four singles players and eight doubles players to field a full team.

The GHS athletic program is now planning to offer girls tennis in the spring of 2010.

Golf team has all new lineup Squad has only seven golfers this year

by Caleb Casey
Senior Staff Writer

The 2009 Grayling High School girls golf squad has a young, inexperienced group - none of the program's scorers from last year's regional tournament are on this year's team.

Keri Brock, who's in her second season coaching the squad, said the team's primary focus right now is "just a matter of using all your clubs and getting comfortable with each one, getting the distance figured out with each."

Coach Brock said the squad has also "done a bit of video to break down swings" and make mechanical adjustments.

"Right now it's just an experience factor because we're so young. I don't have anyone back that competed in regionals last year, so basically it's a whole new squad," Coach Brock said.

The Vikings started practicing on Wednesday, Aug. 12.

"The weather has been great actually," Coach Brock said. "Last year it seemed like we got rained on twice a week. It hasn't really been too hot either."

Coach Brock said the goal for the team is "to take it one step at a time and concentrate on getting better. Our upperclassmen don't have a lot of experience, but we're still going to need them to step up and be leaders to help groom the underclassmen. The younger ones just need reps and course time. With the smaller group, they're going to get it. They're going to have to jump right in."

Coach Brock said six players will compete in most invitationals and five will compete at regionals. Four scores count toward the meet standings.

The Vikings hosted an invitational this week at the Grayling Country Club. The team will golf at Bay View on Sept. 11.

Volleyball team wins one at Roscommon

Grayling High School's varsity volleyball squad posted one win, one tie, and three losses in five matches during Saturday's Roscommon Tournament - the first competition of the 2009 season for the Vikings.

Grayling defeated Kalkaska 21-11, 21-7. The Vikings split with Ogemaw, winning 21-16 and losing 21-10. Grayling fell to Roscommon (21-12, 21-10), Caro (21-15, 21-10), and Gaylord (22-20, 21-16).

"It was a great tournament to work out the glitches of the upcoming season," Coach Jessica Szymoniak said. "The kids started the day not passing well, but got better and better as the day went on. We played Ogemaw and Kalkaska at the end of the day and it was nice to see the kids actually finish the day getting stronger. That is a positive sign. Once our passing picked up we were able to settle down and run an offense. There was great competition. All the teams were strong with very good players, so it was a highly competitive tournament."

Savannah Foguth led the team in assists, Joni Bindschattel led the team in digs (32) and aces (9), Grace Calkins and Abbey Thomas led the team in blocks (5), and Sierra Williamson led the team in kills (14). Ashley Feldhauser had nine kills.

"We need to work on controlling our serves, communicating, and staying out of the net. We had several blocking violations as we were trying to be so aggressive on the net. The kids were very excited to beat Kalkaska knowing that they are part of our conference and it gave them some confidence to start the season," Coach Szymoniak said.

The Vikings (1-4-1) will play at Traverse City St. Francis on Tuesday, Sept. 8, at 5 p.m.

Wednesday Ladies on the Links

On Wednesday, Aug. 19, we were again blessed with another absolutely beautiful golf day. This also was a rain make-up day from July 22.

Today in Flight A, Jeanette Kitchen had a low net of 34, and Marilyn Hartman had low putts of 14.

In Flight B, Kay Ellen King had a low net of 35 and Sherry Hanson had low putts of 15.

In Flight C, Debbie Periard had a low net of 29, and there was a three-way tie for low putts of 19 between Ann Latusek, Gloria Nielson and Deb Periard.

Finally, another birdie was added to our birdie tree by Shelly Cohee on hole #12.

There were also three chip-ins and one was by Shelly Cohee on hole #12, Marilyn Hartman on hole #13 and Joan Phillips on hole #10.

When we all got in, we enjoyed a lunch of chicken salad on lettuce, tomatoes etc., with fresh fruit or a smoked pork sandwich with a choice of side with chips and a pickle.

President Kay Ellen King then announced that we were able to have an election of officers, so after Nancy Glasslee handed out a ballots, voting took place and new on the board will be Sherry Hanson and returning is Juanita Brown.

Our new golf committee person will be Kay Ellen King, as Diana Doremire's term is over.

Next to speak was Mickey Perez, President's Day chairperson who reminded all committees to get together to make the day special.

If you haven't been to the clubhouse at all, the plantings are so beautiful and the glad-iolas are such a beautiful addition. Looks like a picture.

Well, until next week, that's all "fore" now.

PUBLIC NOTICE OF STATE-OWNED OIL AND GAS MINERALS TO BE OFFERED FOR LEASE AUCTION

Lands under consideration for oil and gas leasing include acreage in the following counties: ALCONA, ANTRIM, BRANCH, CHARLEVOIX, CHEBOYGAN, CRAWFORD, GLADWIN, GRAND TRAVERSE, ISABELLA, JACKSON, KALKASKA, MANISTEE, MIDLAND, MONROE, MONTMORENCY, OTSEGO, AND WASHTENAW.

The Department of Natural Resources (DNR) will offer an oral-bid public auction, oil and gas lease rights to approximately 11,000 acres of state-owned minerals in those Michigan counties indicated herein. More detailed information regarding location of the nominated parcels can be found on the web at http://www.michigan.gov/dnr/0,1607,7-153-10371_14793--,00.html or by calling 517 373 7663.

Written comments by interested parties relative to the classification of any description must be received by Forest, Mineral and Fire Management (FMFM) at the address specified herein NO LATER THAN October 6, 2009. Any request for change in classification will be considered by the DNR prior to offering the lease rights at public auction, with final classification to be set at the sole discretion of the Director of the DNR.

Registration of bidders will be held from 8:00 a.m. to 9:00 a.m. on Tuesday, October 27, 2009, at the Michigan Constitution Hall, 525 West Allegan Street, Lansing, Michigan.

Offering of lease rights will begin at 9:00 a.m. at a minimum bid of $13.00 per acre (which includes a $3.00 per acre audit fee), and will continue until all descriptions have been offered. Additionally, at the auction's end and at the option of the DNR, parcels not bid in at $13.00 per acre, may be re-offered at a minimum bid of $5.00 per acre.

Bids may be submitted by individuals of legal age, a partnership, corporation, or other legal entity qualified to do business in Michigan. Prospective bidders should be prepared to submit such proof at the time of registration.

The total bonus must be paid on the same day for all lease rights which receive successful bids. Prospective bidders who do not have an established credit rating with the DNR through prior leasing of state-owned minerals, must pay at least one-half of the TOTAL bonus bid by cash, certified check, cashier's check, or money order. A credit rating may be established by filing with the DNR, Forest, Mineral and Fire Management (FMFM), Mineral and Land Management Section (MLMS), three letters of reference, one of which must be from a bank. In no instance will the DNR accept "site drafts" even if noted as a zero day site draft.

An auction catalog showing the legal description of the lands proposed to be offered and parcel classifications will be available after October 9, 2009, on the web at http://www.michigan.gov/dnr/0,1607,7-153-10368_11800-169044--,00.html or by contacting DNR-FMFM-MLMS, P.O. Box 30452, Lansing, Michigan 48909-7952, telephone 517-373-7663.

A misunderstanding between a pilot and jumpmaster during a heli-casting exercise was the probable cause of an accident that injured six guards and led to the drowning of another, a military investigation reported. An investigation by LTC Howard Becker, Jr., indicated the jumpmaster did not understand the pilot's message and gave order for the men to jump, even though the helicopter's speed and altitude had exceeded normal limits for the exercise.

The Business and Professional Women's Organization donated $12,165 to the City of Grayling to buy equipment for children located in the city park. About $10,500 has been spent with another $1,665 left to be spent toward more new equipment. The new playground has been an instant hit with children and parents in the area. The BPW led a community drive to raise the $12,165. The Grayling Youth Booster Club donated almost half of the amount $6,000.

A current project of the Grayling Promotional Association is the renovation of an upstairs room in the Depot, home of the Crawford County Historical Museum. When finished, the room will represent the fashions of women of the early 1900s.

Traditional groundbreaking ceremonies were held for the new addition to the Grayling Middle School. Crawford AuSable School Board president Bernadine Dosch held the shovel with Crawford AuSable Superintendent Kent Reynolds.

The Department of Natural Resources has set June 7 and 8 as free fishing days in Michigan.

46 Years Ago August 29, 1963

The recent Grayling Trade Show, jointly sponsored by the Grayling Women's Club and the Grayling Kiwanis Club, drew a crowd from a very large area. Slips that were placed in a prize box at the Pink Lady showed that there were people at the show from 40 other cities and communities in Michigan and one from Wisconsin.

The City of Grayling's sanitary landfill will now be open seven days a week during the summer season. It will also be open on a 24 hours per day basis.

The A & P has a quart jar of Miracle Whip salad dressing for 47¢, five ears of Florida sweet corn for 29¢ and a carton of 12 quart size Ball canning jars for $1.65 on sale this week.

Bob Strong, of Grayling, earned a Master of Arts degree from Central Michigan University on June 2. He will be teaching physical education in the Fraser schools next fall.

69 Years Ago August 29, 1940

According to an official bulletin received from the district census enumerator of Bay City, the City of Grayling has had a substantial growth in population. The figures show that we can count 2,121 noses, an increase of 148 since the last official census was taken in 1930. Grayling suffered a slump in population soon after the DuPont plant closed here about 20 years ago, when many families moved away from Grayling. Grayling stood still for a few years but during the past 10 years has had a steady, substantial growth.

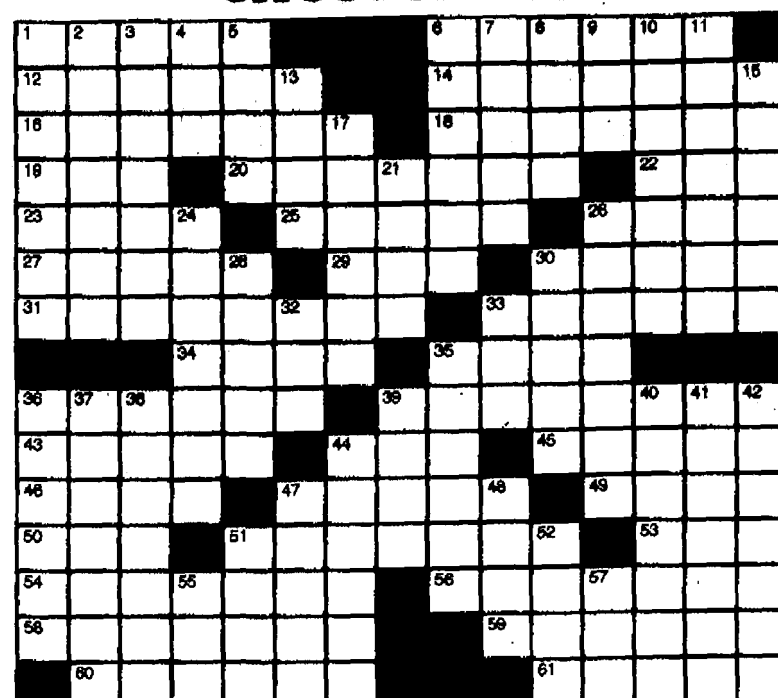

Alex Atkinson will open his horse stables for business in the near future. A couple of weeks ago, he purchased the old livery station next to Spike's Keg O'Nails, had it razed and the good lumber moved out to a spot on the Old M-93 road near the winter sports park.

92 Years Ago August 30, 1917

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rood of the south side are happy over the arrival of triplets in their home on Tuesday.

N.P. Olson is building a fine new brick garage at his home.

ANSWERS IN THE CLASSIFIEDS

HOROSCOPES

For the week of August 27, 2009

December 22-
January 19

Get ready, Capricorn. News from a friend is going to rock your world. An ambitious home improvement project requires careful research and attention to detail.

March 21-
April 19

A lucrative offer is presented. Be careful, Aries. Review it from all angles to ensure it is right for you. Clutter control takes over your home this weekend.

June 22-
July 22

Fun takes center stage this week. Cancer. Evenings with friends sizzle, and a special trip with family brings everyone closer together. A phone call results in a flurry of activity.

September 23-
October 22

A furry friend stops by for a visit. If you aren't careful, Libra, they could steal your heart. The mad dash to complete a chore at home requires the help of everyone.

January 20-
February 18

You're the bomb, Aquarius. Everything will come naturally to you this week. A tripe down memory lane has you rolling in laughter throughout the weekend.

April 20-
May 20

Stern advice comes from a wise friend. Don't dismiss what they have to say, Taurus. It is right on the mark. Your love life receives a major boost with a trip.

July 23-
August 22

Valuable information arrives in the mail. Put it to good use, Leo. Your workload increases dramatically. Efficiency is the key to keeping up and staying on top.

October 23-
November 21

You're out of this world, Scorpio. You go to great lengths to welcome guests into your home, which leads to a good time for all. A gardening project ends with a flourish.

February 19-
March 20

An eerie encounter has a family member reeling. Do what you can to soothe them, Pisces. Dreams of yesterday fill your mind. It's not too late to make them a reality.

May 21-
June 21

Sunny times are here to stay, Gemini. Fire up the grill and invite some friends over to celebrate the last days of summer. Shades of green remind you of the importance of conservation.

August 23-
September 22

A good review pleases you. Congratulate yourself on a job well done, Virgo. Relaxation comes in many forms over the weekend from long walks in the park to lunch with friends.

November 22-
December 21

Get a move on, Sagittarius. Your fitness routine is waning, and your goals are getting farther away. Rearrange your schedule and make time for a workout every day.

The S.S. Cedarville, which was based out its homeport in Rogers City, was hauling over 14 tons of open-hearth limestone to Gary, Ind. The S.S. Cedarville was built in River Rouge in 1927 and was initially known as The Harvey. Above, freighter was renamed in 1957, when it was converted from being a strait decked ship to a self-unloading ship.

Frederic man inducted into Great Lakes Lore Maritime Museum

"It was so foggy you couldn't see the other end of the ship," Erickson said.

The S.S. Cedarville successfully passed the German S.S. Weissenburg, but the Topdalsfjord struck the S.S. Cedarville at a 90-degree angle on the portside of the ship at the Number Seven Hatch. The S.S. Cedarville, which was based out its homeport in Rogers City, was hauling over 14 tons of open-hearth limestone to Gary, Ind.

After dropping anchor to assess the damage, the crew on the S.S. Cedarville decided to go full steam in attempt to beach at Mackinaw City. About two miles from shore, the ship rolled starboard due to taking on too much water and sank. Seven men who died were recovered from the water by the crew of the S.S. Weissenburg and divers from the U.S. Steel Corporation, which owned the S.S. Cedarville. Jungman was one of the first men pulled from the frigid waters, and it was determined he died from asphyxiation by drowning and shock from being the chilly Great Lakes waters.

Twenty-one crew members were rescued with lifeboats and rafts and taken aboard the S.S. Weissenburg. They were later transferred to the Coast Guard Cutter Mackinaw.

The S.S. Cedarville tragedy followed the sinking off the Carl D. Bradley, which went down in Lake Michigan after breaking apart the on Nov. 18, 1958. In all, 85 children were orphaned and 35 women were widowed by the Great Lakes tragedies. Most the sailors were from the Rogers City area, with Jungman being an exception.

"That was really a tragic loss for this town," Erickson said.

Jungman was survived by his wife, Jennie Lee Jungman, daughters Shelley Pinkelman of Frederic, Lana Cronk of Roscommon, and son Michael Jungman of Novi.

The S.S. Cedarville was built in River Rouge in 1927 and was initially known as The Harvey. The freighter was renamed in 1957, when it was converted from being a strait decked ship to a self-unloading ship.

"She was a good solid ship," Erickson said.

A ringing of the bell ceremony was held at the Great Lakes Lore Maritime Museum to honor the 10 men lost in the S.S. Cedarville tragedy.

Erickson said the bell represents the heart of the ship and dates back to the days when sailors hunted whales on ships.

"We ring the bell for the men who served on them and who died on them," Erickson said.

Erickson recalled Jungman was a quiet man, but said he didn't have a close relationship with his fellow shipmate.

"We were not close, but when you spend all that time together out on the Great Lakes with 30 other guys, you get to know them pretty well."

Pinkelman said the induction of her father into the Great Lakes Lore Maritime Museum has brought some peace of mind for the family.

"It's given us some final closure because we were young kids when the accident happened and there were a lot of things that were unknown," Pinkelman said. "This has brought everything together for us."

ATTENTION NEW STUDENTS!

Parents are urged to register their children beginning the week of August 24, if they are new to the Crawford AuSable School District. Students new to the district can report to the building they will be attending from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday thru Friday. A current immunization record must be presented or contained in transfer records. At the elementary level, the building principal will assign the student to a classroom. At middle school and high school levels, the student will be assigned a counselor who will assign a class schedule after reviewing transferred records and meeting with the student to discuss goals, interests, and past successes. For this reason, although not mandatory, it is suggested that all new to the district high school students call ahead and make an appointment with high school counseling office secretary Teresa Bonamie at 344-3512.

Michigan Requires Immunization For School Entry

Michigan law prohibits a principal or teacher from admitting new entrants to school without a record of having received at least one dose of each: measles, mumps, rubella, polio, diphtheria, tetanus and pertussis. Records for all entering kindergarten students and students enrolled from outside the district will be reviewed to ensure immunizations are up to date. Notice will be sent to parents or guardians if there is no immunization record upon school entry or if records are incomplete. Students not in compliance with state immunization requirements will be excluded from school until documentation of immunization is presented. Parents may sign a waiver if they have a religious or other objection to immunization, or they may provide a statement of objection for medical reasons which has been signed by a physician. Michigan law requires that all students be immunized against diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis, polio, measles, mumps and rubella. Immunization can be obtained from your physician or health department.

BUILDING USE BY OUTSIDE GROUPS

Persons or groups wishing to use school district facilities outside of the regular school day can call the Community Education Director at 348-6137. A building request form will be provided and if the request is approved, a contract will be completed. It is the policy of the district to charge a fee for such use. Fees are based upon the cost of utilities, materials, and personnel to the district and upon the type of group using the facility. Requests for building use must be filed at least ten days prior to the date requested. Classrooms, cafeteria, auditorium, and gymnasium are available for use. Requests for use during school hours must be processed through the building principal.
